DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the election filed 17 June 2002.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 61-68 and 77-84 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected method of making a semiconductor device, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 5.

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-9, 53-60, 69-76 and 85-108 in Paper No. 5 is acknowledged.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference sign(s) not mentioned in the description:

Fig. 4, # 70

Fig. 10, #80

A proposed drawing correction, corrected drawings, or amendment to the specification to add the reference sign(s) in the description, are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claims 1-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kim (U.S. Patent 6,025,246).

Kim discloses a capacitor structure (Fig. 1F) that contains a conductive polysilicon cylindrical container (5a) having a closed bottom and sidewalls extending upward from the closed bottom and an oxide dielectric cap (6a) on top of the sidewalls.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7, as applied to claim 1, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim.

Kim discloses the claimed invention except for the dielectric cap being annealed.

In regards to the dielectric being annealed, a "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao and Sato et al., 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (CCPA 1976) (footnote 3). See also In re Brown and Saffer, 173 USPQ 685 (CCPA 1972); In re Luck and Gainer, 177 USPQ 523 (CCPA 1973); In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324 (CCPA 1974); and In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289 (CAFC 1983) final product per se which must be determined in a "product by, all of" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that Applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear. Even though product -by[-] process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based upon the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product is made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985)(citations omitted)."

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim in view of Yoo et al. (U.S. Patent 6,177,340).

Kim discloses a capacitor structure (Fig. 1F) that contains a conductive cylindrical container (5a) having a closed bottom and sidewalls extending upward from the closed bottom and an oxide dielectric cap (6a) on top of the sidewalls, where the dielectric layer can also be silicon oxynitride. Kim discloses all of the limitations except for the container structure to comprise hemispherical grain polysilicon. Whereas Yoo discloses a capacitor (Fig. 16) that contains a cylindrical capacitor structure (42) comprising conductively doped hemispherical grain polysilicon (44). The container structure is formed with hemispherical grain polysilicon to increase surface area, and increase capacitance and performance. (Column 8, lines 29-33) Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the capacitor of Kim by incorporating the capacitor structure to comprise hemispherical grain polysilicon to increase surface area, capacitance and performance as taught by Yoo. In regards to claim 9 where the dielectric cap is annealed at 600°C to 1000°C, a "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao and Sato et al., 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (CCPA 1976) (footnote 3). See also In re Brown and Saffer, 173 USPQ 685 (CCPA 1972); In re Luck and Gainer, 177 USPQ 523 (CCPA 1973); In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324 (CCPA 1974); and In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289 (CAFC 1983) final product per se which must be determined in a "product by, all of" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that Applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear. Even though product -by[-] process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based upon the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product is made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985)(citations omitted)."

Art Unit: 2822
